At this time, some of our favorite masks come from overseas, under the wide and growing category of Korean skin care. In South Korea, the mantra à € finger scars. It is also common to take more to address specific needs (for example, a clay misma to purify the pores matched with a hydrogel leaf spouse to rehydrate). Things can get a little confusing with the overwhelming number of Majscearas who claim to be wonders of a single snapshot. Ahead, find a list of superstars that will save you from collecting a duck the next time he is in the output. Read to discover some of the most new and fresh K-Beeauty more that is not yet using, but it must definitely be. In refinery29, we are here to help you navigate this overwhelming world of things. All our market teams are selected and cured independently by the editorial team. If you buy something we connect to our site, Refinery29 can gain commission. Now we are sure that you are familiar with leaf masks, so we will save you the silent silence of the lambs jokes that everyone feels the need to do so. But as long as you have seen them, you may not have tried them yet, maybe they would look complicated or have no meaning to you. We beg you to reconsider it, because these unconscious appearance treatments are actually all kinds of impressive for your skin. For those of you who are still a little blurred in the details, the leaf masks are fabrics or complete face paper that have cut holes of them for their eyes, nose and mouth. They are infused with a powerful treatment formula: simply displays the Put it on the face, aligning the holes with the corresponding part of your face (which can be more differ from what it sounds) and relate for 10-15 minutes. The refrigerant flammula will cool off its complexes since it is absorbed in the face. What These are really different from the washing masks to which it is used is the fact that the masks of the foil catch the formula on your skin, which forces you to absorb and seal in the humidity. While they are super popular in Asian countries, for some The reason why the fabric masks have not been realized in the Western world. Fortunately, it seems to be about to change with the recent release of a series of new masks of known brands. Here, we have gathered the most remarkable shelves that hit right now. Check them, find the right formula for you and try them, we don't think you're disappointed. A word of warning: they can be a bit messy the first time you use them, so make sure you have a hand towel to help clean the drops. Photo-Illustration: by Stevie Remsberg; Photos: Getty The best way to do something good for your skin without spending a lot of money (outside drinking water and breathing) is to wear a sheet mask. The masks of leaves are a great product of entry to Korean beauty, and only needs a few dollars and 20 minutes to get a more creepy skin, brighter (and buffering). Here, a summary of the best Korean masks, unlike overwhelmingly positive Internet reviews and my personal experience, including the sleeping masks that smell like watermelon, masks made of snail and cream masks that feel really luxurious.
